

Outstanding Languages Educator Awards 2024

Required documentation

A statement needs to accompany each category for which the person is nominated. This must be accompanied by three mandatory elements and at least two pieces of further evidence.

Mandatory elements:

1. A personal statement, written in the first person about your rationale for applying. In the case of another person nominating, a third person is accepted.
2. At least one piece of evidence of student classroom work (e.g. writing, performance, film, mp3 file etc.) with clear explanation of what it is and why you have sent it. It may, for example be a student response to a task you have designed (send the task description too)
3. Current Curriculum Vitae.

At least two pieces of further evidence: These may include:

- One supporting statement by an identified colleague or another person who can endorse your teaching, and/or professional support, in relation to the award.
- Detailed Lesson(s) or Program plans with clear connections to one of the award categories
- Further samples of resources you have created; learners' work samples; evidence of evaluation processes.
- Details of any professional development learning to which the nominee has contributed in some way with outcomes for improved classroom practice, or professional relationships, as appropriate.
- Short video of your classroom practice

The panel will be looking for a description of what the applicant has done, how they have done it and what the outcomes have been for learners, colleagues, and the school.
